Achieving Success Through Learning

Our business is business development

Do you need to improve the performance of your business?

Would you like to really improve your management skills?

If so, our comprehensive Personal Skills Development for Managers – Framework 360 programme could be just what you need. Some businesses may qualify for co-funding support of up to 50%, depending on company location and sector. Please check with us for further details and to establish whether your company is eligible for this support.

Personal Skills Development for Managers – Framework 360

Framework 360 is a business support programme aimed at developing the skills and knowledge of managers and directors to manage business resources more effectively

During the course managers will:

- Review the effectiveness of the current systems and processes in relation to planning, people management and performance measures used by the business.
- Improve productivity and effectiveness of your current operations and implementation of best practice.
- Complete a comprehensive self-review of their business processes using the framework.
- Be provided with tailored one to one support to develop the leadership and management skills needed to implement the changes identified through the workshop
- Ongoing support from your trainer who will monitor and maintain your personal progress

This programme is delivered over 3 separate days, including a one day workshop and bespoke one-to-one training and support.

Training is delivered by Jennifer Reeves, who has considerable hands-on experience delivering training in management and people skills, and has run her own successful HR Consultancy and Management Training business since 2006. She is experienced and accredited to deliver training and assessment of internationally recognised standards, including Investors in People (IIP), Customer First, TQS and ISO 9001.
